

2021 EDPL Young Scholars Award CALL FOR PAPERS

The European Data Protection Law Review cordially invites young researchers at the beginning of their academic career (Master or PhD students under the age of 35) to submit articles based on their thesis for the 5th annual EDPL Young Scholars Award.

The five best submissions will be published in issue 1/2021 of European Data Protection Law Review. The winner of the competition will receive a one-year subscription to the European Data Protection Law Review.

The contribution must deal with a data protection issue and address it from a European perspective. The preferred approach is legal, but interdisciplinary approaches are also welcome.

The article should depict the thesis' core points, including key questions, hypothesis, methodology, findings and policy recommendations, if applicable.

Regardless of the original language of the work, submissions are only accepted in English. They are subject to the scrutiny of an expert jury which will evaluate their quality, degree of innovation and clarity of presentation.

Participation Requirements:

- Eligible Topic
- Format (5.000 - 7.000 words, in English)
- Deadline for submission: 15 November 2020

Contact:

Please submit the application in a Word document via e-mail to the Executive Editor:

Jakob McKernan

mckernan@lexxion.eu

+49-30-81 45 06-13

4 issues/year · approx. 100 pages/
issue · ISSN 23 64-28 31 ·

www.lexxion.eu/edpl

Editor

Bart van der Sloot

Tilburg University

Associate Editors

Maja Brkan

University of Maastricht

Mark D. Cole

University of Luxembourg,

Institute of European Media Law (EMR)

Gloria González Fuster

Vrije Universiteit Brussel

Tijmen Wisman

VU University Amsterdam

Editorial Board

Franziska Boehm

Axel Frhr. v. d. Bussche

Alexander Dix

Federico Ferretti

Els Kindt

Eleni Kosta

Orla Lynskey

Alessandro Mantelero

Marc Rotenberg

Peter Schaar

Indra Spiecker gen. Döhmann

Alessandro Spina

Wojciech Wiewiorowski

Tal Zarsky

Frederik Zuiderveen Borgesius